The Masters of Science in HPER is a 36 credit program which includes 18 credits of required classes and 18 credits of student selected electives. The required classes include PE 707, PE 738, PE 768, PE 858, PE 865, and PE 868.

Required Courses:

The required courses in this degree program are typically offered in the following rotation.

- PE 707 – *Every semester (including summer) and at least five times within a year
- PE 738 – *Every semester (including summer) and at least five times within a year
- PE 768 – *Every semester (including summer) and at least five times within a year
- PE 858 – *Every semester (including summer) and at least five times within a year
- PE 865 – *Every semester (including summer) and at least five times within a year
- PE 868 – Every fall and spring semester; never summer and at least five times within a year

Elective Courses:

The elective course rotation is dependent upon funding for adjunct instructors, as well as budgeted summer salaries.

Elective courses are typically offered at least twice over the three semesters (fall, spring, summer) of an academic year. Each semester between 10-13 elective classes are needed to match the student demand.
