

EMPORIA STATE UNIVERSITY

Premedical Fellowship

APPLICATION

submission deadline is December 1st

A number of ESU alumni and friends in the medical professions came together in 2017 with a shared goal: to recruit exceptional incoming freshmen and support them in their pursuit of being admitted to medical school. Through their generous giving, the Premedical Fellowship was born. Today the Premedical Fellowship is awarded each year to a single incoming freshman who will graduate from a Kansas high school and who has declared their intention to follow the premedical track for preparation for medical school.

The successful applicant will receive a prestigious $10,000 fellowship, payable as $2,500 per year for four years, so long as they remain on the premedical track and maintain full-time academic status with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0.
