

Employment by Preparation Area

Using information supplied by the Kansas State Department of Education of EPP first-year completers teaching in PK-12 schools in the state of Kansas, the EPP determined the number of completers teaching in the content area for which they were prepared. Information from KDSE over a two-year period indicated 97% of the first-year completers reported were teaching in positions for which they were prepared by the EPP. Of the 3% not teaching in the area for which they were prepared, they were identified as teaching seminar courses, miscellaneous courses, special education, English to Speakers of Other Languages, human services and religious education and theology.
