Federal financial aid regulations allow colleges and universities to include an allowance for dependent childcare expenses in the student's cost of attendance on a case-by-case basis. Generally, the allowance is for independent students who have dependent children living with them. The allowance covers daycare expenses the student may incur during class time, study time, internships, etc. If both you and your spouse are currently enrolled at ESU, only one parent may receive this adjustment.

If approved, the inclusion of childcare expenses in the student's total cost of attendance will increase. Depending on the type and amount of aid already awarded and/or disbursed, this increase in total cost may not result in additional aid eligibility.

If you wish to have your cost of attendance increased to allow for childcare expenses, please list below children under the age of 12 for whom you will be paying childcare expenses.

A maximum amount of up to $2,000 for the award year will be considered.
