Required Text: Classical Sociological Theory, 5th edition, by George Ritzer. Whether or not you purchase this text, you must have access to it, for proper class preparation.

Course Objectives – This course is a survey of the development of Sociology, starting with the Enlightenment period in the 18th century, through its birth in the first quarter of the 19th century, to the beginning of the 20th century. This represents the classical period of sociological history. The main focus will be on the social thinkers who pioneered the principal movements in sociological theory, i.e., Auguste Comte, Karl Marx, Emile Durkheim, and Max Weber.

Course Outline and Grading ---- In order to assess your comprehension of the material, the following requirements must be met:

1. Three or four multiple-choice tests during the semester, including the final. Each test has 30 questions, 2 points per question, for a perfect score of 60 points. The final test is not comprehensive, but based on the material covered after the previous test.

2. A number of quizzes, as well as some short written assignments, will be given on a regular basis, and will account for 20% of the course points.
   - If a written assignment is given, you will be handed a sheet with specific instructions, and allowed 2 weeks to prepare and turn in the assignment.
   - If a written assignment is given, it must be turned in on the date specified. Otherwise, a grace period of ONE WEEK may be granted on a case-by-case basis.

Important: These quizzes and written assignments cannot be made up later! Also, there will be no extra-credit work!

The tests will be based primarily on the lecture material and assigned readings. Students will be responsible for everything discussed in class. It is, therefore, critical that you maintain regular attendance, try to follow the class discussions, ask questions when necessary, and take good notes.

GRADING SCALE

1. Regular Tests - Each test has 30 questions, worth 2 pts. each, therefore a perfect score for each regular test is 60 points. Test scores account for 80% of the overall course grade. The remaining 20% of course points comes from the quizzes and written reports.

\begin{align*}
90\% \text{ of the 60 pts} &= 54 \text{ pts.} / A \\
80\% \quad &= 48 \quad / B \\
70\% \quad &= 42 \quad / C \\
60\% \quad &= 36 \quad / D
\end{align*}

2. Quizzes and Reports -- The total number of possible points for the course comes from the tests, together with the quizzes & written assignments.

If we have four tests, the test scores add up to 240 points (60 points each test). The points from the quizzes and reports will account an additional 60 pts., for a total of 300 points.

If we have three tests, the test scores add up to 180 points (60 points each test). The points from the quizzes & reports will account for an additional 45 points, for a total of 225 points.

The grade given on the quizzes & reports is the percentage obtained from the 60 points (if we have four tests) --- or 45 points (if we have three tests). -- At the end of the semester, these percentages are added up and divided by the number of quizzes given during the semester. The result is the average percentage of the possible quiz points --- (i.e., of the 60 --- or 45 pts.).

The points obtained on the quizzes are then added to the points obtained on the tests. The corresponding grading scale for the course overall will be:
-If We Have Four Tests:

Attendance -- Regular attendance is a critical factor for successful performance in this class. Therefore, an attendance policy will be enforced. Students will be allowed to miss the equivalent of two weeks (6 class periods for a M-W-F class; 4 class periods for a T-R class), for any reason, without penalty.

Additional absences will result in the reduction of points from the final grade. Specifically, each additional three absences reduces your grade by 5 percentage points—e.g., from a B+ to a B- . An additional six absences is sufficient to lower the final course score by one full letter grade.

If a class must be missed, there is no need to call to notify me, but make sure you are within the limit of absences allowed. - You can always check your attendance standing with me.

Students are also required to be on time. The basic guideline is this: If the student comes in after his/her name has been called, it is his/her responsibility to let me know this after class in order to avoid an unnecessary absence.
Also: Those who leave early without my being informed beforehand of a the reason for this, will be counted as absent.

Important— Absences for medical or legal reasons do not constitute a special situation. This attendance policy is set up this way precisely to accommodate these kinds of absences.

ALSO: Since we have an attendance policy, make sure there is no conflict between class time and other commitments. Excessive absences may lead to official withdrawal from the class. (The University policy regarding this matter is attached).

No electronic devices of any kind are to be used during class. Cell phones and beepers, in particular, can be very disruptive of class proceedings, and should remain off while in the classroom.

Make-up Exams — You will be allowed to make up one missed test. The make-up test will be essay, and will be given on the last day of classes (Friday afternoon). The quizzes & short written reports cannot be made up, as stated before.

Consultation - This course will be demanding, but manageable, if you devote sufficient effort and commitment to it. Regular consultation with me to clarify the issues discussed in class should improve your chances of doing well. Therefore, I encourage you to get assistance with the coursework as soon as you think you need it.

I will be available for assistance with the coursework during the office hours listed above, or by appointment.

Effective Fall 2001, core courses in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology must be passed with a “C” or above for all majors and minors.

There will be no early taking of Final Tests at the end of the semester, as consistent with the University position on this issue. — Therefore, plan accordingly (i.e., re travel arrangements, etc.)

Disability Services: Emporia State University will make reasonable accommodations for persons with documented disabilities. 3D.0701 ACADEMIC DISHONESTY POLICY (FSB 95002 approved by President 1/31/96; FSB 03002 passed by Faculty Senate 1/20/04; approved by President 2/9/04; FSB 05002 passed by Faculty Senate 1/17/06; approved by President 2/7/06; title update approved by President of the Faculty 8/22/2010; FSB 10007 passed by Faculty Senate 3/15/2011; approved by President 3/21/2011)

Academic dishonesty, a basis for disciplinary action, includes but is not limited to activities such as cheating and plagiarism (presenting as one's own the intellectual or creative accomplishments of another without giving credit to the source or sources). The faculty member in whose course or under whose tutelage an act of academic dishonesty occurs has the option of failing the student for the academic hours in question, or for any components or requirements for that course. Departments, schools, and colleges may have provisions for more severe penalties. Emporia State University may impose penalties for academic dishonesty up to and including expulsion from the student's major or from the University. In addition, acts of academic dishonesty shall be grounds to deny admission to a department or program. In addition to the penalties above, the faculty member shall notify in writing his/her department chair and the registrar of the infraction. The department chair shall forward a report of the infraction to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life. The registrar shall block the student from withdrawing from the course to avoid the penalties that result from the infraction. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life shall act as the record keeper for student academic infractions. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life will notify the student in writing that an infraction has been reported and inform the student of the right to appeal and of the appropriate appeal procedures. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life shall notify the student, the department chair, and the faculty member that initiated the proceedings, of any additional action taken beyond those already imposed by the faculty member. Should a single infraction be so egregious, or should a student have a record of multiple infractions, the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life may impose additional penalties, including expulsion of the student from the University. The student has the right to appeal the charge of academic dishonesty (see Student Conduct section). If after an appeal it is found that the student did not commit an act of academic dishonesty, no penalties will be imposed on the student.

A chair of a department or director of a program may request from the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life a list of all currently enrolled ESU students within that major or program who have committed acts of academic dishonesty. This request may be a standing request to be filling automatically during each semester until the request is rescinded by the chair or director. In addition, a chair of a department or director of a program... may submit to the office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life a list of applicants to a program or major and the chair or director may be informed if any of the applicants has committed any acts of academic dishonesty.

Prior to the beginning of the next academic year, the office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life shall send to the Chair of the Academic Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate a list containing nonspecific student identifiers, such as Student 1, Student 2, etc., their specific academic infraction(s) reported to the Provost's office, the total number of infractions that have been reported for each student, and any actions taken by the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life.

3D.07 STUDENT CONDUCT (FSB 01011 approved by President, 4/29/02)

Excessive absenteeism is defined as a number of absences beyond which the faculty member has determined on his/her syllabus that a student cannot complete the course without the academic integrity of the course being compromised. Emporia State University is committed toward development of sensitive and responsible individuals and believe this goal is best achieved through a sound educational program and reasonable policies concerning student conduct, both in and out of the classroom. Operating from this concept, recognition is given to the importance of an honest approach to learning which ideally is shared by the instructor and the student. Faculty members may make the disposition of any cases of disruptive behavior, excessive absenteeism, or academic dishonesty within their classes as they deem appropriate. Following such cases, the faculty member shall make available to the chair of the department and to the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs a record of such student absenteeism or disruptive behavior and the action taken by the faculty member. (This information will be helpful in dealing with those students who may have had similar problems in other classes or departments.) If the problem is not settled between the faculty member and the student, assistance will be given from the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. If the problem cannot be resolved at this point the student may request a hearing. This request must be in writing. If a case of dishonesty, excessive absenteeism, or disruptive behavior also involves a disagreement regarding a grade, the student may be referred to the committee which hears academic appeals.

If the behavior is such that broader disciplinary action by the school/college is recommended, a hearing board shall be established by the President of the University to make disposition of the case. (In all cases of disciplinary action the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs is available for assistance.)

At any point where student conduct directly interferes with the health, safety, or well being of individuals in the campus community, the University may apply sanctions or take other appropriate action. Since the University is responsible for the subsidiary duties of maintaining property, keeping records, providing living accommodations, and sponsoring a variety of nonclassroom activities, it is necessary that a climate supportive of such duties be maintained. Student status will not be a basis for any special consideration from the University when a community, state, or national law has been violated, although every effort will be made to assist with the rehabilitation of a student violating such laws. This is done by working with law enforcement or other agencies, and ordinarily further sanctions are not applied after such a case is closed.

No disciplinary sanction as serious as suspension, probation, or adverse notation on permanent records (available to other than official personnel of the college) will be imposed without proper notification given to the student in writing. This notification will state the charges and will give the accused the opportunity to appear alone, or with appropriate representation before the proper committee, judicial council, court, or official. Included will be the nature and source of evidence and the encouragement for the student to present evidence in turn. Following this review final disciplinary action will be taken by the University. Students may also request that such 3-64 appearance before committees, councils, courts, or officials be waived and the case be determined in conference with appropriate campus officials. The University conduct policy commits all individuals serving on any of the above named groups dealing with student problems to a code of confidence. Failure to comply may lead to sanctions from student, faculty, or administrative governing bodies, or officials. Students, faculty, and administration shall have the opportunity to participate fully in the formulation of policies and rules and their enforcement. Penalties for men and women shall be based equally; like penalties following like violations.

4E.13 FACULTY INITIATED STUDENT WITHDRAWAL (FSB 76006; FSB 95008 approved by President 5/9/96; FSB 09016 approved by President 5/3/2010)
If a student's absences from class, disruptive behavior, lack of prerequisites, or academic dishonesty become detrimental to the student's progress or that of other students in the class, the faculty member may advise the student to withdraw from the class. Withdrawal may also be advised if the student is inappropriately enrolled in the class. If the faculty member chooses to withdraw the student, he/she shall attempt to notify the student in writing that a faculty initiated withdrawal is in progress. This notification will be copied to the department chair and Academic Affairs office to serve as the request for withdrawal. If efforts to contact the student have been unsuccessful, or unacknowledged, the faculty member shall then seek the aid of the Academic Affairs office in contacting the student. The Academic Affairs office shall provide the student with information about the existing appeals procedures. Upon receiving a written request for withdrawal from the faculty member, the Academic Affairs office may initiate a student withdrawal from the class. None of the above implies or states that faculty members are required to initiate any student withdrawal.
