SLIM Mission Statement
Educating successful library and information professionals with imagination, creativity, and innovation.

SLIM Vision Statement
Embracing an interdisciplinary culture of collaboration and diversity for the common good.

EMPORIA STATE UNIVERSITY has been teaching library science since 1902 and is the only library school in Kansas accredited by the American Library Association. SLIM began regional MLS programs in 1987 at the request of library professionals in areas of the country without schools of library and information studies. SLIM programs provide a flexible delivery method that enables the completion of a Master of Library Science degree in two years.

Unique attributes of all SLIM programs are current interest courses that feature trips to international locations funded by scholarships, a partnership with the Kansas Leadership Center that focuses on developing leaders in information organizations, and practicum courses that provide opportunities to apply skills learned in classes.

SLIM currently offers MLS programs in Emporia and Overland Park, Kansas; Denver, Colorado; Salt Lake City, Utah; Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and Portland, Oregon. Each program is offered in a unique combination of face-to-face, weekend-intensive classes combined with online learning. Although a number of fully-online courses are available, it is not possible to complete the program entirely online.

Each MLS program uses a cohort model. Students are recruited for a particular starting date at a specific location and move through the curriculum together in a six-semester cycle. Classes meet two weekends per course, on Friday evenings and all-day Saturday. Although all of SLIM’s courses are delivered through a web-based course management system, SLIM faculty commute to the various program locations for face-to-face weekend instruction. Each MLS program location has a Regional Director who serves as a student advisor and is available in person for consultation during class weekends, by telephone and e-mail, and during office hours for individual appointments. The Regional Director also facilitates practicums, works as an advocate in the local area for students, and shares employment information.

The rewards for students in the SLIM Regional Education Program are the opportunities to earn the MLS and to develop a network of friends and colleagues. The rewards for SLIM come from the participation and perspective of many more students from multiple backgrounds, cultures, and ways of life than would be possible if the student body were limited only to those able to attend classes on the home campus.

THE MASTER OF LIBRARY SCIENCE CURRICULUM
The SLIM Master of Library Science program curriculum presents a dynamic mix of theory, tools and application courses, and context-sensitive electives. The curriculum reflects an essential core of knowledge for information professionals, including:

- a professional philosophy and ethic of service;
• an understanding of human behavior in terms of information seeking and social interaction;
• an understanding of the information transfer process—how information and knowledge is created, recorded, disseminated, organized, diffused, utilized, preserved, and destroyed;
• comprehension of information engineering—understanding the theories supporting the organization of information for effective use;
• a working knowledge of management theory to enable leadership of an information agency; and
• knowledge of the global information infrastructure as it interfaces with local, regional, and national networks.

The theoretical base and working knowledge of information management tools prepares the student to apply his or her learning in elective courses designed for various career paths within the field of library and information management. A capstone course provides an opportunity to synthesize the educational experience in preparation for entering the field.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY CURRICULUM
The doctoral curriculum is a five-tier process. Coursework in the first tier introduces students to library and information science research and theory. In the second and third tier courses, students examine fields related to their research interests in greater depth. Student may take courses from the three tiers simultaneously. Fourth tier courses prepare students for teaching and to create research proposals and dissertations. Upon successful completion of the qualifying exam and selection of the dissertation chair, students will advance to the fifth tier. The fifth tier is dedicated to proposing and writing the dissertation. After approval of the research proposal, students advance to Ph.D. candidacy status.

Tiers one and two course sequences are:
LI 900 – First fall semester
LI 903 – First fall semester
LI 892 – First fall semester
LI 890 – First spring semester
LI 891 – First spring semester
LI 904 – Second fall semester
LI 893 – Second fall semester
LI 905 – Second spring semester
LI 894 – Second spring semester
LI 940 – Second summer semester

Tier three courses provide opportunities for students to 1) customize their studies to deepen their knowledge of information science via additional SLIM graduate courses; 2) include concentrations in Instructional Design Technology and Information Systems; or 3) develop an approved specialized course of study. Tier four is preparation for the dissertation proposal on a student-centered schedule, which allows enrollment in directed readings for up to nine credit hours. DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY—LIBRARY AND INFORMATION MANAGEMENT
The doctoral program enables students to conduct research that will contribute to society’s understanding of the creation, diffusion, and utilization of information. The program also places special emphasis on developing effective teachers. The program draws upon the strengths of SLIM’s academically diverse faculty, a unique curriculum designed for today’s working scholar, and an environment of faculty-student interaction.

The SLIM doctorate does not require a traditional residency on campus; instead, students meet residency requirements by attending weekend-intensive classes that meet two times per course for a total of 10 hours each weekend. The classes are held at Emporia State University-Kansas City in Overland Park (Kansas City area), Kansas. Scholarships to cover travel expenses are available.
Tier 2: Foundational Courses
Students are required to take all four foundational courses in Tier 2 to ground their doctoral research in theoretical frameworks that support contemporary professional practice.

LI 891 Seminar in Information Transfer 3 hours
LI 892 Seminar in Information Psychology 3 hours
LI 893 Seminar in Administrative Theory 3 hours
LI 894 Seminar in Organization of Information 3 hours
Total Course Credit Hours 12 hours

Tier 3: Advanced work in concentrations
To meet qualifications for the two pre-determined concentrations, students may choose 12 credit hours from the courses offered in this section (below) for Instructional Design Technology or Information Systems. For students who do not elect to pursue one of the two defined concentrations, their transcripts will state “Doctor of Philosophy in Library and Information Management.” For students who elect to pursue one of the two defined concentrations, the transcript will also state “with a concentration in Instructional Design Technology” or “with a concentration in Information Systems,” as appropriate. Students who elect to take 12 credits of 800-level SLIM courses, 700-and-above-level ESU graduate courses from other ESU departments (except Instructional Design Technology or Information Systems), or 700-and-above-level graduate programs in other accredited institutions of higher learning, will not have a concentration on the diploma; however, the concentration will be evident on their transcripts. Courses chosen for Tier 3 must be appropriate for the student’s doctoral studies and approved by the doctoral coordinator and the SLIM dean in advance of registration. Credits and available courses for the Instructional Design Technology Concentration and Information Systems concentrations are listed below:

Total 4 hours

Tier 5: Proposal and Dissertation (15 hours)
Upon successful completion of the qualifying examination units and selection of the dissertation chair or co-chairs, the student will enroll in LI 947 to write the proposal under the supervision of the committee chair/co-chairs. After the proposal has been presented publicly and accepted by the student’s committee and the SLIM dean, the student will advance to degree candidacy and will enroll in LI 950 to write the dissertation under the supervision of the committee chair/co-chairs. The dissertation must be approved by the dissertation committee and the SLIM...
Students must complete at least 12 hours of dissertation credit and enroll in at least three credits each semester until the dissertation is completed or until eight years after admission to the doctoral program has expired. Dissertations are expected to contribute new knowledge to the field through high quality research. Dissertations will be supervised by a committee of at least three qualified members of the doctoral faculty, one of whom must be from outside the School of Library and Information Management and may be from a different university. Students must submit a Thesis/Dissertation Committee Declaration Form from the Graduate School. Students who have a concentration in Instructional Design Technology or Information Systems will have a committee member from that department; students with an approved concentration from another institute of higher education will also have a representative committee member from that discipline/institution. Upon completion of the dissertation, all students will present their research during an oral examination conducted and evaluated by the dissertation committee and open to the public.

Graduate School Application Process for MLS program, School Library Media Licensure, Certificates

Academic requirements are a BA or BS degree from an accredited four-year institution with an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 for full admissions. Applicants with a GPA under 3.0 may be considered for probationary admission. Applicants are expected to demonstrate competence in written and oral communication.

It is essential that applicants apply and receive acceptance into the ESU Graduate School prior to being considered for acceptance by SLIM. Following acceptance by the ESU Graduate School, prospective students should begin the SLIM admission process.

1. For the Master of Library Science, your degree objective is MLS with a major in Library Science (LIS). For the Archives Studies Certificate, your degree objective is CRT with a major in Archives Studies (ARC). For the Library Media Specialist Licensure, your degree objective is LIC with a major in Library Media Specialist (LM). If you have a postgraduate degree or have taken graduate course work, you must list those institutions as well. You must apply for admission online at http://www.emporia.edu/grad/appinstr.htm.

2. Transcripts. Arrange to have an official transcript from each institution attended sent directly to the Graduate Office (see address above or on application). The grade point average that is used for admission purposes is always based on your bachelor's degree. Students are expected to have a grade point average of 3.0 overall or in the last 60 hours of course work toward the initial bachelor’s degree. We consider a post-graduate degree, or graduate courses taken, to give us a full picture of your academic record.

3. Letter of reference from two people who know you and your work (academic and/or community work) that address your intellectual capability, ability to express thoughts orally, ability to express thoughts in writing, maturity, and motivation. The letters should also include how long the writers have known you and their relationship to you (teachers, colleague, co-worker, etc.). References may be sealed or open.

5. An advising interview.

6. A written two-page statement of objectives, double spaced (details may be found on the SLIM web site http://emporia.edu/slim under Programs: Master of Library Science).

Each application will be considered by applying the admissions criteria on an individual basis. Academic requirements, for instance, may be waived in favor of applicants of unusual ability and background where rationale for that waiver can be demonstrated. However, only those applicants showing strong evidence of intellectual promise and leadership potential will be admitted.

Graduate School Application Process for Doctoral Students

It is essential that applicants apply and receive acceptance into the ESU Graduate School prior to being considered for acceptance by SLIM. Following acceptance by the ESU Graduate School, prospective students should begin the SLIM admission process.

The application form is available at http://www.emporia.edu/grad/appinstr.htm. For the doctoral program application, your degree objective is PhD and the major is LIM (Library and Information Management). You must apply for admission online at http://www.emporia.edu/grad/appinstr.htm. Other documents to send to the Graduate School are:

- GRE scores (combined score of 340 or more on the verbal and quantitative exam portions)
- Official transcripts sent from each institution you have attended
- TOEFL score as evidence of fluency in English, when appropriate (score of 650) (international students only)

Following admission to the Graduate School, you must submit additional material to the Graduate School for consideration by the SLIM doctoral faculty:

- A sample of written work that demonstrates your scholarly writing ability (published journal article, graduate research paper, etc.)
- A 200-300 word statement outlining your career goals and research interests
- Current resume

In some cases, an applicant who does not meet the above criteria may be admitted on academic probation. Academic probation allows a student the opportunity to demonstrate his/her ability to succeed with graduate level course work.

SLIM has specific hardware, software and network requirements for all students that are specified on the SLIM website at http://tinyurl.com/SLIMtechnology
Computer technology is integrated throughout the curriculum, including the use of Canvas, ESU’s learning management system, and use of video-conferencing software. All students must have their own devices, high-speed Internet access, and current software for home use by the beginning of all SLIM programs. Full program participation requires extensive study and participation. It is not usually possible to complete the program successfully relying only on equipment and resources at work or in a library.

Check with the financial aid office for full details about possible funding for purchase of computer equipment at https://www.emporia.edu/finaid/
