Class Lectures/Discussions: These will provide the main context of information and the order of presentation in the syllabus will be followed as much as possible. It is extremely important that you come to class prepared since it is difficult to have a discussion unless you have read the assigned reading. From time to time I may give you a supplemental reading which will expand your knowledge beyond that of the text. Be prepared to discuss what you have read as I am very interested in your point of view regarding the information and I will have short quizzes on the assigned readings. We will watch an assortment of films that address the subject matter and we will have speakers. Should you have any suggestions as to possible speakers or films please do not hesitate to mention them as soon as possible so arrangements can be made.

Classroom Policies

Courtesy towards others, a professional demeanor, and academic integrity are expected of all students. In addition, it is very important that students be able to attend class without distractions and disturbances. In order to help assure this you are asked to abide by the following policies:
a. This class is largely composed of discussion and all students are expected to participate. You are requested to NOT indulge in extensive side conversations that disrupt the class or the discussion.

b. Turn off all cell phones during class. Absolutely NO texting is allowed during class. TWENTY (20) points will be subtracted from your final grade for texting during class for each occurrence.

c. Using a computer to take notes is permitted. However, should you fail participate in the class you will not be allowed to use the computer. In addition, surfing, playing games, looking at Face Book, etc. is not permitted and you will loose your computer privileges if you do so during class.

Consultation: I urge you to consult with me concerning any questions that you may have about the coursework, or any other aspect of the class. You can phone me at the office, see me during office hours, or e-mail me. DO NOT wait until the last few days of the class to address this problem as it will be reflected in your grade. Consider asking for help if you have any problems in the class at all. ALSO, do not think that you are doing well in the class if you pass the first or second exam and then “forget” to come to class or hand in assignments, very often this behavior does not have a happy ending.

a. Missed Exams: All missed exams (not quizzes) MUST be made up within two weeks of the date of the exam. All make-up exams will be essays, no exceptions.

b. Missed Quizzes: These CAN NOT be made up, you must be in class to take a quiz and get credit for it.

c. Paper Deadlines: All papers are due on the date that is stated. Late papers will have 10 points subtracted for each day that they are late.

d. Final Exams: Final exams are scheduled for the week before school ends. All students are expected to take their finals on the date assigned for that final. Therefore, students should not make plans to leave school early before the date of their final.

e. Leaving Class: If, for some reason, you have to leave the class before it is over you are requested to inform the professor at the beginning of the class. Do not just get up and leave, it is disruptive to the class. If you sign in and then leave the class your name will be removed from the sign-in sheet and you will be judged as missing class.

f. Missing Class: If, for some reason, you have to miss a class you are expected to inform the professor by telephone or email as soon as possible. If you miss more than SIX (6) classes you may be asked to leave the class entirely, unless you have provided a reasonable explanation to the professor.

g. Sociology Majors and Minors: There is a “C” minimum requirement for this class in order to get credit for your degree in Sociology or CDS.
University Information

Disability Services: Emporia State University will make reasonable accommodations for persons with documented disabilities. Students need to contact the Director of Disability Services and the professor as early in the semester as possible to ensure that classroom and academic accommodations are implemented in a timely fashion. All communication between students, Disability Services, and the professor will be strictly confidential.

Academic Dishonesty Policy
Academic dishonesty, a basis for disciplinary action, includes but is not limited to activities such as cheating and plagiarism (presenting as one’s own the intellectual or creative accomplishments of another without giving credit to the source or sources). The faculty member in whose course or under whose tutelage an act of academic dishonesty occurs has the option of failing the student for the academic hours in question, or for any components or requirements for that course.

Departments, schools, and colleges may have provisions for more severe penalties. Emporia State University may impose penalties for academic dishonesty up to and including expulsion from the student’s major or from the University. In addition, acts of academic dishonesty shall be grounds to deny admission to a department or program. In addition to the penalties above, the faculty member shall notify in writing his/her department chair and the registrar of the infraction. The department chair shall forward a report of the infraction to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life. The registrar shall block the student from withdrawing from the course to avoid the penalties that result from the infraction. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life shall act as the record keeper for student academic infractions. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life will notify the student in writing that an infraction has been reported and inform the student of the right to appeal and of the appropriate appeal procedures. The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life shall notify the student, the department chair, and the faculty member that initiated the proceedings, of any additional action taken beyond those already imposed by the faculty member. Should a single infraction be so egregious, or should a student have a record of multiple infractions, the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life may impose additional penalties, including expulsion of the student from the University.

The student has the right to appeal the charge of academic dishonesty (see Student Conduct section in the University Catalog). If after an appeal it is found that the student did not commit an act of academic dishonesty, no penalties will be imposed on the student. A chair of a department of director of a program may request from the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life a list of all currently enrolled ESU students within that major or program who have committed acts of academic dishonesty. This request may be a standing request to be filling automatically during each semester until the request is rescinded by the chair or director.

In addition, a chair of a department or director of a program may submit to the office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life a list of applicants to a program or major and the chair or director may be informed if any of the applicants has committed any acts of academic dishonesty. Prior to the beginning of the next academic year, the office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life shall send to the Chair of the Academic Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate a list containing nonspecific student identifiers, such as Student 1, Student 2, etc., their specific academic infraction(s) reported to the Provost’s office, the total number of infractions that have been reported for each student, and any actions taken by the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Life.

STUDENT CONDUCT

Excessive absenteeism is defined as a number of absences beyond which the faculty member has determined on his/her syllabus that a student cannot complete the course without the academic integrity of the course being compromised. Emporia State University is committed toward development of sensitive and responsible individuals and believes this goal is best achieved through a sound educational program and reasonable policies concerning student conduct, both in and out of the classroom.

Operating from this concept, recognition is given to the importance of an honest approach to learning which ideally is shared by the instructor and the student. Faculty members may make the disposition of any cases of disruptive behavior, excessive absenteeism, or academic dishonesty within their classes as they deem appropriate. Following such cases, the faculty member shall make available to the chair of the department and to the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs a record of such student absenteeism or disruptive behavior and the action taken by the faculty member. (This information will be helpful in dealing with those students who may have had similar problems in other classes or departments.)

If the problem is not settled between the faculty member and the student, assistance will be given from the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. If the problem cannot be resolved at this point the student may request a hearing. This request must be in writing. If a case of dishonesty, excessive absenteeism, or disruptive behavior also involves a disagreement regarding a grade, the student may be referred to the committee which hears academic appeals. If the behavior is such that broader disciplinary action by the school/college is recommended, a hearing board shall be established by the President of the University to make disposition of the case. (In all cases of disciplinary action the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs is available for assistance.)

At any point where student conduct directly interferes with the health, safety, or well being of individuals in the campus community, the University may apply sanctions or take other appropriate action. Since the University is responsible for the subsidiary duties of maintaining property, keeping records, providing living accommodations, and sponsoring a variety of non-classroom activities, it is necessary that a climate supportive of such duties be maintained. Student status will not be a basis for any special consideration from the University when a community, state, or national law has been violated, although every effort will be made to assist with the rehabilitation of a student violating such laws. This is done by working with law enforcement or other agencies, and ordinarily further sanctions are not applied after such a case is closed.

No disciplinary sanction as serious as suspension, probation, or adverse notation on permanent records (available to other than official personnel of the college) will be imposed without proper notification given to the student in writing. This notification will state the charges and will give the accused the opportunity to appear alone, or with appropriate representation before the proper committee, judicial council, court, or official. Included will be the nature and source of evidence and the encouragement for the student to present evidence in turn. Following this review final disciplinary action will be taken by the University. Students may also request that such appearance before committees, councils, courts, or officials be waived and the case be determined in conference with appropriate campus officials.

The University conduct policy commits all individuals serving on any of the above named groups dealing with student problems to a code of confidence. Failure to comply may lead to sanctions from student, faculty, or administrative governing bodies, or officials. Students, faculty, and administration shall have the opportunity to participate fully in the formulation of policies and rules and their enforcement. Penalties for men and women shall be based equally; like penalties following like violations.

Faculty Initiated Student Withdrawal

If a student's absences from class, disruptive behavior, lack of prerequisites, or academic dishonesty become detrimental to the student's progress or that of other students in the class, the faculty member may advise the student to withdraw from the class. Withdrawal may also be advised if the student is inappropriately enrolled in the class. If the faculty member chooses to withdraw the student, he/she shall attempt to notify the student in writing that a faculty initiated withdrawal is in progress. This notification will be copied to the department chair and Academic Affairs office to serve as the request for withdrawal. If efforts to contact the student have been unsuccessful, or unacknowledged, the faculty member shall then seek the aid of the Academic Affairs office in contacting the student. The Academic Affairs office shall provide the student with information about the existing appeals procedures. Upon receiving a written request for withdrawal from the faculty member, the Academic Affairs office may initiate a student withdrawal from the class. None of the above implies or states that faculty members are required to initiate any student withdrawal.
