Washburn University invites applications for an Evening Instructional and Reference Librarian. The University Libraries seeks applicants who enjoy working in a fast-paced environment and who seek to assume a leadership role in its First-Year Experience Program, emphasizing the transition of students into Washburn University.

Required Qualifications:

- An ALA-accredited master degree in Library or Information Science
- Experience or course work that demonstrates familiarity with ACRL Standards for Libraries in Higher education
- Candidates must demonstrate an ability to work independently and as part of a team.

Preferred Qualifications:

- An additional Master’s degree in any subject taught at Washburn University
- Experience demonstrated by course work or classroom experience in reference/library instruction and teaching
- Experience designing and managing courses using course management systems
- Experience with assessment of student learning

Responsibilities:

- A successful candidate for this full-time, 12-month position will support evening Washburn Experience and Information Literacy classes and develop programming to engage students and promote Mabee Library resources and Information Literacy at Washburn University.
- The successful candidate will serve as a subject matter liaison with responsibility for collection development and build relationships with assigned departments. Evening and some weekend hours required.
- The successful applicant will demonstrate an interest in teaching and reference service as well as a strong commitment to student learning and delivery of instruction.

Application Procedures:

Applications for this entry level position should include a curriculum vitae, a letter describing interest in the position including a vision for the future of Washburn
University Libraries and a personal teaching philosophy, contact information for three professional references and copies of transcripts. Submit electronic applications in pdf format to Ms. Ginger Webber at ginger.webber@washburn.edu, with “Evening Librarian Search” in the subject line. Review of applications begins July 22, 2019, and continues until position is filled. The successful candidate will be required to submit to a background check prior to hire.

To learn more about Washburn University visit http://www.washburn.edu/facultystaff/human-resources/faculty-vacancies.html or direct questions to our Search Committee Chair Librarian Sean Stacey at sean.stacey@washburn.edu. Washburn is dedicated to providing a student-centered and teaching focused academic environment and a curriculum that engages the diversity of human experience across the globe. We seek candidates who are committed to Washburn’s efforts to create a climate that fosters the growth and development of a diverse student body, and we encourage applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education. Application materials should clearly articulate how the candidate will contribute to the University’s commitment to diversity and inclusion through their teaching, research, and/or service. Washburn University is an EOE. Washburn University provides equal access to and opportunity in its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, religion, age, national origin, ancestry, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, veteran status, or marital or parental status.